Not only has XM made life better for me but it also makes driving safer because you are not flipping from station to try to get away from all those annoying commercials, you stay with one station longer. In addition, having good music to listen to keeps you more alert when driving, usually with the regular radio, I would become frustrated and just switch it off, which would lead to drowsiness on road trips. Let the CONSUMER DECIDE WHAT THEY WANT. If we didn't want it we wouldn't pay for it.
